Decide to Organize Gleichen G.W.V.A.

The veterans of Gleichen District held a meeting in the Gleichen Town Hall on Sunday and decided to organize a local for Gleichen and surrounding districts. Comrade R. Stabback was elected president, Comrade Bates vice-president and Comrade O'Keeffe secretary-treasurer. All veterans residing in the district should communicate with the secretary and have their transfer cards made out for the local branch.

There were about thirty veterans present and it is believed easily one hundred members can be obtained. A charter is being applied for and it is expected the new organization will be completed at an early date.

Correspondence

Editor Call:—

Several letters of inquiry and suggestion with respect to the War Memorial have appeared in the columns of your paper during the past few months. As a member of the Memorial Committee, it seems to me scarcely fair, to those who had sufficient interest to write, nor to you, sir, who gave space in your valuable paper, for the letters that they should remain apparently unrecognized by the committee.

May I say first that your committee has found the memorial proposition much bigger and more complicated than any of its members anticipated when the work was undertaken in December of last year. In this respect, however, we are only sharing the experience of other committees and communities. Your committee is criticized for its inactivity, and, perhaps, rightly so. Yet the more I have read of the war memorial movement on this continent and in the old land the more I have inclined to the opinion that the early movements of the committee were marked with undue haste.

The Municipal Art Society of New York, which has been entrusted with the task of educating the American public as to what a memorial should look like, advises that the people go slow in the way of Memorial Art.

Mr. Chas. Moore, Chairman of the United States National Commission in Fine Art, has the same counsel for his countrymen, adding that a war memorial should commemorate the spirit of the nation; not the soldiers alone but the people everywhere who gave their services and made their sacrifices. The war was not won solely by the soldiers but by the nations. Such creations require the work of real artists.

Commenting on Mr. Moore's statement, Saturday Night says, that there is great need in this country at the moment for a War Memorial's Committee which will be qualified to direct the designing and erection of such memorials as private citizens and communities desire. In other words a direct effort should be made to prevent war memorials from being created upon faulty and inartistic lines. A badly executed painting can be shoved into the background and in time forgotten, but poor architecture or worse plastic art, sticks out like a sore thumb and if it be poorly designed and badly executed the longer it remains in view the worse the impression on the public.

Capt. J. P. Gerrie writing to the

Soldiers Welcome Home, June 20

Gleichen Women's Institute will Give Banquet and Dance in Honor of Gleichen Soldiers

The Gleichen Women's Institute has decided to give a banquet and dance on Friday, June 20th, in honor of the returned soldiers of the entire district. An admission charge is to be made for all save the soldiers and the proceeds will be handed over to the Gleichen G.W.V.A. to assist the boys in the work of organization. This is to be a royal welcome home and every enlisted man will be invited, and everyone in this district will surely be present.

Western Veteran from England about war memorials says in part: "It is particularly urged that all architects, statues and works of art contribute to the aesthetic and beautiful. That this has been sadly wanting in the past is all too evident. It is, therefore, proposed that competent artists be available for commemorative work throughout the whole kingdom." Referring to Canada Capt. Gerrie continues, "We have comparatively little of war material in Canada and we have a rare opportunity to build worthily of the greatest cause the world has ever known and for which our men have shown a heroism and sacrifice unsurpassed in the annals of time."

Those who have put most thought into what constitutes a suitable memorial for Gleichen and district, I venture to say, are most in accord with the opinion quoted. However, your committee hopes, within the next few weeks to have and to submit to the district a finished sketch together with plans and specifications and approximate cost, designed in harmony with the idea adopted by the community at a meeting held in the Opera House January last.

Yours sincerely,

R. N. MATTHEWS,
Secretary.

Provincial Treasurer Visits Gleichen

Hon. Charles L. Mitchell was in Gleichen Saturday night, returning from a visit to his Queenstown farm. In a short conversation with The Call he said his thousand acres of wheat looked fine and, in fact, the whole country he passed through could not be in better condition at this time of the year for a good crop.

Referring to the building of the new Gleichen Agricultural School he said the department was experiencing trouble in obtaining tenders for its erection. The contractors do not want to tender on the school, owing to the present labor conditions, but he hoped this would soon be overcome.

Mr. Mitchell said the new school would be a fine one and a great improvement on the first schools erected.

Finding boarding accommodation for the pupils will be a problem for Gleichen to solve and this should be taken in hand at once as it is a matter that affects the schools and means business for the town. He said he could see that the Legislature would soon have to consider the building of dormitories with the schools.

Standard will celebrate Dominion Day. All Gleichen is expected there July 1st.

Thos. Huckvale had the misfortune to have his collar bone broken and his shoulder crushed by his horse stumbling and falling on him.

Preparing for the Gleichen Exhibition

The regular monthly meeting of the Gleichen District Agricultural Association held last Thursday evening was well attended and the various subjects discussed were quite interesting.

Mr. D. Hutchesson, manager of the Royal Bank, gave a little talk on the offer of the Canadian Bankers Association to give prizes for boys and girls under 17 exhibiting cattle or swine at the local fairs that they have cared for themselves.

A motion passed providing that no animals be allowed on the fair grounds or in the stables until within two weeks before a fair or races, excepting that permission would be given for the use of the track for exercising.

The president was asked to employ a permanent caretaker for the exhibition grounds and buildings, and he has since secured the services of Dave Wilson.

A lengthy discussion was given the prizes list for the exhibition this year and finally a committee was appointed to revise the list and to have it printed as soon as possible.

Another committee was appointed to take charge of all the arrangements for the coming fair.

East Arrowood

Miss Grace and George Hollenbergs have arrived from Lordsburg, Calif., where they have been attending college and will spend the summer with their parents.

Rev. and Mrs. L. S. Shatte departed two weeks ago for Indiana expecting to be gone four weeks. They are combining pleasure with business as each are having the pleasure of visiting relatives and friends.

Honk! honk! A. G. Salter has a new Overland.

The trees which L. H. Irwin set out around his place a year ago are a fine example of the possibility of the splendid groves each of us may cultivate if we use care and a little work.

Pete Lyle has arrived from his former home in Missouri and will make his home with the rest of the family in East Arrowood. He brought with him an athletic medal which he won with his high school diploma.

Rev. T. A. Eisenbise will give a lecture on his trip to the Orient on Sunday evening, June 15th, at 8 o'clock, in the Church of the Brethren on the reserve. Everybody is welcome. He will have with him a plow such is used in Palestine today that compared with the plows used in Alberta is well worth going a long distance to see.

Provisions of Wild Land Tax Act Modified by Recent Amendments

At the last session of the Provincial Legislature the Wild Lands Tax Act was amended by legislation introduced by the Minister of Municipal Affairs under whose direction this act is administered.

One of the outstanding features of these amendments is the widening of the provisions under which exemption from the tax might be secured. As the act has been in force during the past four years, all cultivation or pasturage of land whereby exemption might be secured, was required to take place during the year previous to that in which the tax was levied. This being the case the purchaser of land from the Dominion Government or from the Canadian Pacific Railway Co., who made his purchase in the fall of the year, had no opportunity to earn exemption from the Wild Lands Tax in the following year. This was unfair as the purchaser in question had no control of the land during the previous year, and was thus penalized because of a condition of affairs beyond his control. The act as it now stands, provides that exemption may be granted if the cultivation takes place prior to the first day of August of the year in which the tax is levied, or if the land is pastured for two months prior to the first day of July of the year in which the land tax is levied. The amount of cultivation and the number of head of stock pastured, is left as it was; namely, one-quarter of the land must be cultivated, and there must be stock in the proportion of one head of cattle or horses, or three sheep to every ten acres. The provision in regard to residence exemption also remains the same, namely, a bona fide farmer who is resident, is exempt for 640 acres, and such land may be any place within a radius of nine miles from his place of residence.

During past years, the administration of the Wild Lands Tax Act has been criticized on account of the fact that lands were some times assessed under this act that were really exempt from such tax. Because of the large areas given to each assessor to cover, this was unavoidable as it was impossible for him to see all of the land in his district, and he had, therefore, to depend for much of his information on hearsay evidence from parties in the community. This led to a good deal of misunderstanding, and many mistakes were made. This condition of affairs was, of course, very unsatisfactory, and provision has been made whereby, commencing with the current year, all land taxed under this act will be actually seen by the person responsible for the assessment.

In the organized portions of the Province; that is, in the Municipal districts, this tax will be levied by the Municipal district, and it will be possible for the official levying the tax for the district, to obtain exact information as to what lands in the district are subject to this tax, and there should be no possibility of land exempt from taxation being taxed, or of land subject to taxation being omitted from the tax roll.

In the unorganized portions of the Province, the staff of outside assessors employed by the department has been increased, each assessor must see all the land that he assesses; no hearsay evidence will be taken. This will insure a proper assessment in the unorganized areas, and it will do away with the possibility of a man being assessed for land which he is cultivating or on which he has probably made his home for a number of years.

The placing of the Wild Lands Tax assessment in the hands of the Municipal districts will also tend to better the service in other ways; that is, all taxes on lands in Municipal districts, with the exception of school taxes in some cases, will now be payable to the one official; that is the secretary-treasurer of the Municipal district. There will only be one Tax Roll, and only one Tax Notice and one Tax Receipt will be necessary. A party who owns land in a Municipal district will not receive any tax notices from the Department of Municipal Affairs. He will only receive one tax notice from the secretary-treasurer of the Municipal District in which his land is situated, and this notice will show all taxes payable by him, and a clear receipt from them the Secretary-treasurer of the Municipal district will be evidence that all his taxes have been paid. Where the School taxes are still levied by the school districts the land-owner will, of course, receive a tax notice from the School in addition to that from the Municipal district. It is to be hoped that ere long all school taxes will be levied by the Municipality, and that in all Municipal districts, only one assessment and tax roll will be necessary.

As far as the unorganized portions of the Province are concerned; that is, the Improvement district, all taxes levied on land by the Provincial Government will be shown on one tax notice in place of two or three as in the past, and the receipt of payment will be acknowledged on one tax receipt form, and all such tax notices and tax receipts will give full particulars as to the amount of the different taxes levied against the land.

A Way To Prevent Soil Drifting

To destroy weeds in the summer fallow on the prairie without leaving the soil in condition to drift readily a new style of cultivator has been devised. This implement, which has a place especially on the dry land farm, is designed to cut off weeds about three inches below the surface of the ground without breaking up the surface soil. Pamphlet No. 28, is obtainable from the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture at Ottawa, explains the construction, by illustration and text, of this simple implement. The implement is eight feet wide and requires four horses for its operation. It may be constructed up to 12 or even 16 feet when from 6 to 8 horses are needed to draw it.

Farmers Sunday Service June 15th

Sermons will be preached in all churches in Gleichen on June 15th, expounding the doctrine of the United Farmers of Alberta. All towns people as well as all farmers are cordially invited to attend these meetings and hear what equity and co-operation mean when carried out to their fullest meaning.

These words should not be just kept for Sunday services but kept in mind every day in the year, with our families, with our neighbors and with everyone with whom we come in contact.

They should be kept in mind by the members of our Provincial Government and our Dominion Government, and also with all other governments the world over.

They are big words, study them from every angle.

W. D. TREGO,
Corresponding secretary.

MUNICIPAL HAIL INSURANCE

Why You Should Insure
In Your Own Company

The Hail Insurance Board, elected under the provisions of the Municipal Hail Insurance Act has established headquarters in Calgary with offices in the Canada Life Building. The officials are farmers of many years standing, men who have had practical experience on the land, as municipal officers, and with hail insurance. The adjusters have already been appointed and everything is in readiness for the season's operations. Those who are taking advantage of the act and insuring their crops are assured of a square deal.

There are many reasons why the farmers of Alberta should support this plan of Hail Insurance. Space will not permit to give all the details but a few can be enumerated that will show the farmers that to be insured with this Board is absolutely safe.

(1) The Farmers' Own Company, it is endorsed by the U. F. A., by municipal conventions, and by the majority of the organized municipal districts of the province.

(2) Insurance at Actual Cost.

There are no commissions to be paid to agents and no profits to be paid to shareholders.

(2) Absolutely Fair Adjustments. The staff of adjusters appointed by the Board are all farmers everyone of them having crops of their own that may be hailed out tomorrow. They would be adjusted by some other farmer, consequently it would not pay them to make anything but fair adjustment with those they are dealing with.

(4) Settlements Made Promptly. The Board has arranged for sufficient funds to take care of any amount of business. They have a credit of $1,000,000 and can get as much more as they require.

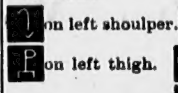

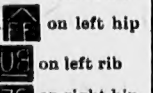

(5) A Cash Proposition on a Credit Basis. The rate is struck in September, but the premium is payable at par at any time until December 15th. The rate is only sufficiently high to pay all losses in full, and the cost of administration, and to provide a small surplus for carrying on the business.

Everything else being equal, it is a matter of dollars and cents to the farmers. The line companies, by their own figures, have made big profits during the last five years in the Province of Alberta. There is no reason why this money should not be retained in the pockets of the farmers, and at the same time they will receive the same protection on their crops under the municipal hail insurance plan.

If any further information is desired, apply to the Secretary-Treasurer of your municipal district, or to the Hail Insurance Board, Box 140, Calgary, Alberta.

EQUITY AND CO-OPERATION

What two words in the English language mean more?

What can be more purely equitable and co-operative than ten thousand or more farmers joining together and agreeing among themselves that those who are so fortunate as to escape destruction of their crops by hail would pay to those who lose their crops by hail, their losses up to $10 or more per acre.

What can savor more of graft than to have a few men agree to pay the losses and charge the highest possible rate for the risk and pay as little as possible when the loss occurs.

The first kind of protection can be secured to the extent of $8 per acre through the Municipal Act if you are in an organized district.

As much additional insurance as you want can be obtained by carrying it with the two Farmer Companies now doing business in the Province of Alberta.

Thirty-three other companies doing business in the province have done all in their power to prevent the farmers from carrying their own hail insurance but it did not work.

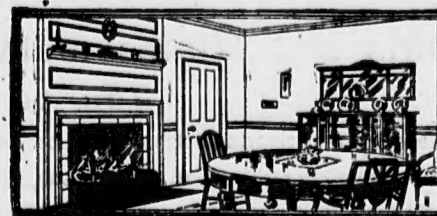

The Peoples' Market are acting as agents for the two farmer companies.

Ask their nearest representative how you can get your your insurance by co-operation and be sure of equity in the cost and adjustments of losses.

Gleichen Girls' Club Spurred to Further Success

Editor Gleichen Call:

On behalf of The Gleichen Girls Club I would like to say, in reply to the writer's somewhat inadequate remarks regarding this organization, that its members are willing to acknowledge the did not spend their limited spare time doing war work but are not ashamed to meet the returning boys. "Doing one's bit" towards them does not merely lie in the performance of war work. There are other ways, ways which, perhaps, were even more helpful and beneficial to the men who knew that those "at home" were thinking and praying for them and who sent them those many comforts which they so much needed—deeds which, maybe, were of greater true value than those which the performers loudly proclaimed, making themselves as obnoxious as the ancient Pharisee!

The best deeds are those which are done silently—unknown to others—not "proclaimed upon the housetop".

I would like to add that if the writer desired in any way by his sarcastic remarks to dampen the enthusiasm of the members of the Girls' Club, he has failed. They are, if anything, spurred on to further success.

SECRETARY,
The Gleichen Girls' Club.

Ed.—The Call is most happy to know our inadequate remarks has spurred the Girls' Club to further success, and feel sure the returned soldiers will be just as pleased to know that the girls were "thinking and praying for them"; although, it is just possible some of the boys may have preferred to do their own thinking and allowed the girls time for making bandages for their wounded comrades, which would not have necessitated crawling up on housetops, elevators or any place like that, as they could be made in the parlor. It is hardly fair for the secretary to refer to the young girls and the women who worked so hard on war work as "obnoxious as the ancient Pharisees". Many of them are quite as young as the secretary and were no more conspicuous as waitresses in the banquet hall than the fairies in the ball room. May success attend the Gleichen Girls' Club.

Don't Read This

It won't interest you unless you own or drive a Ford car

BUT

We are installing our Electro Magnetiser and invite you to call and see it work. Many Fords that have been in use one or more years are in need of Electro service due to weak or shorted magnets causing the car to start hard, burn too much gasoline, miss when running slow, poor lights or coils, points burning or sticking.

Electro Service

In addition to locating troubles such as end play in crank shaft, coil troubles and etc. will burn out shorts in the magneto and charge the magnets stronger than when new.

Don't forget we weld Ford frames without removing them from the car
